

TRIO FROM MT. VERNON

Held For Burglary Of Fredericktown Store

Watchman Phillips Observes One Man In Act

Secures Aid And Captures Party At Jewell Lane

Shoes Tossed Aside Are Recovered And Identified

Captor Claims Liquor Figured Prominently In Thievery

Fredericktown, Aug. 29.—Burglary of the Morris Haggerty shoe store of this place between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock this morning resulted in the arrest by Night Watchman H. W. Phillips of three young men, claiming Mt. Vernon as their homes. They are Fred Dalrymple, William Weaver and George Haynes.

When apprehended by Phillips, who was assisted by four other residents of this place, near the Jewell lane, the Mt. Vernon trio was placed in the city lock-up, after they were searched by Marshal John Jones.

Only pairs of shoe-strings were discovered and these on the person of Dalrymple. The route the young men took in leaving Fredericktown was retraced, however, and several pairs of shoes, evidently tossed aside, were located and restored to their owner, Mr. Haggerty.

It was shortly after 1 o'clock that Night Watchman Phillips, sitting in the lobby of the hotel, noticed the trio drive up in a buggy. They hitched and entered the place, asking Phillips if they could obtain something to eat. He directed them to the Robb restaurant, and then locked the hotel for the purpose of following the young men.

Phillips states that all had been drinking, that they had a bottle of gin, about one-half of which was consumed, together with a number of bottles of beer. He said they offered him a drink, but that he refused. Their condition, he thought, demanded watching, and so he left the hotel.

Hiding himself in the shadow of a store entrance, Phillips claims that one of the party went down street while the other two disappeared in a doorway. A few moments later, one of these latter emerged from the door and walked down street. Phillips then walked past the Haggerty store and saw Dalrymple inside, holding in his hands several pairs of shoes. He stepped aside quickly and witnessed Dalrymple attempt to return out doors evidently by the means he had used in entering the building—through the transom above the door. The packages in his pocket evidently proved too bulky, Phillips states, so he unlatched the door and walked out.

Dalrymple was not aware of the fact that Phillips had watched his movements and, when the watchman passed by the store again and found Dalrymple behind the screen, the alleged burglar said that he was nearly frozen and was seeking a place to warm himself. Realizing that he could do nothing single-handed against three young men, Phillips affected unsuspicion, saying he would find him a place.

In the meantime, the watchman attempted to get John Jones, marshal, by telephone, but was unsuccessful. He left the summoning of this official in the hands of a telephone girl and proceeded to Huggins' pool room, where he found the proprietor and four young men, one of whom had an automobile. Jumping into this machine, the party started in pursuit of the Mt. Vernon trio which had departed in the buggy.

They located them near the Jewell lane and had little trouble in making arrests as no resistance of any sort was put up. The trio was taken to the lock-up where they passed the night. They denied connection with the burglary.

Watchman Phillips stated that the safe door in the Haggerty store, as well as the inner drawer thereof, were unlocked and it was surprising that money was not taken.

Haynes, Phillips stated, declared that he was preparing to retire in his room at the Y. M. C. A., Mt. Vernon, when Dalrymple and Weaver called to him and asked him to join them in a ride. He consented, never having any idea that the trip would turn out as it did.

The three young men were arraigned Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock before Mayor Haggerty of this place, whose store they were charged with burglarizing. Weaver, claiming to be 17 years of age, was turned over to the juvenile court. Dalrymple and Haynes were both bound over to common pleas court, under $500 bond, to await the action of the grand jury. Dalrymple's bond was signed by his brother, Frank, of this village. Haynes was unable to furnish bond and was committed to the county jail.

TEMPERANCE

LAST QUESTION HANDLED BY S. D. A. CONVENTION

National Prohibition Favored in Resolution—Protest To Congress Against Pending Measures Adopted

Newark, Aug. 29.—Discussion of the temperance question formed the main topic of the closing hours of the state convention of Seventh Day Adventists, while a memorial to the congress of the United States, protesting against a pending measure restricting the freedom of the press and also against bills, establishing Sunday "blue laws," was adopted.

A fearful rainstorm struck the camp Saturday, but did no greater damage than blowing down a large tree. The storm broke during a revival service which was continued as if nothing were wrong.

The convention went on record as favoring national prohibition.

MILLERSBURG

Teacher Shares Honors With Ross County Youth In Corn Boys' Song Contest

Columbus, Aug. 29.—Miss Wilda Bell of Millersburg and M. C. Morgan of Frankfort are the winners in the Corn Boys' song contest. The judges had no easy task in making their selection from the 81 manuscripts submitted, they were all excellent contributions, and found two which they deemed equally meritorious, so divided the $10 in gold between the two contestants above named.

Miss Bell, the author of "Ohio Marches On," is a native of Holmes county, a teacher in that county for a number of years. She is now a Granger and farm manager and intensely interested in grange and social center work.

Mr. Morgan, the author of "The Victor's Song," is a native of Ross county and traces his ancestry back to the Morgans and McDonalds of early Ohio history. He is a successful farmer and takes a keen interest in all the affairs that belong to the state, as well as devoting many of his leisure hours to literary pursuits.

HEALTH

OF WIFE IMPERILED BY TIMOTHY CHAFF

Cardington Men Seek Order Restraining a Neighbor From Threshing In His Barn

Mt. Gilead, Aug. 30.—The chaff and dust from the threshing of Timothy hay has become a nuisance to at least two residents of Cardington, G. W. Ruehrmund and W. H. Doty, who have instituted an action in common pleas court against L. S. Russell, asking for an injunction.

They claim that the defendant operates a hay barn on the opposite side of the street from their residences in Cardington and that he threshes Timothy hay in the barn and the chaff and dust therefrom is carried across the street onto their properties and settles in the houses and gets into cisterns and wells.

It is further said the chaff is injurious to the health of their families and deprives them of the enjoyment of their properties.

One of the plaintiffs, Mr. Ruehrmund, says that it has been necessary for him to move his wife away to protect her health. It is asked that the defendant be perpetually enjoined from threshing in the barn.

A. T. O'Bryan of this city made a business trip to Howard Wednesday.

ROUMANIANS ENGAGE ENEMY

Making Furious Efforts to Seize Carpathian Passes.

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS ASSISTING

Vienna Admits the Withdrawal of Austrian Advanced Detachments. Owing to Roumanian Encircling Movement—Occupation of Kavalas by Bulgarians Arouses the Greeks. Day's Operations on Other Fronts.

London, Aug. 30.—The Roumanians already are reported to be making furious efforts to capture passes in the eastern Carpathians leading into Hungary, and are declared to be fighting shoulder to shoulder with Russian troops coming from Bukovina. King Ferdinand has ordered a general mobilization of his forces and is reported to have gone to the front personally to take command of his army.

While Berlin says that Roumanian attempts to pierce the passes have been futile, Vienna admits that owing to a "far-reaching encircling movement by strong Roumanian forces Austrian advanced detachments have been forced to withdraw."

Occupation by the Bulgarians of Kavalas is declared to have intensified the feelings of the Greeks, who are said to be willing to follow former Premier Venizelos in any action he may advise. Venizelos is strongly pro-entente.

None of the belligerents claims any great battles. An attempt by the Germans to approach British trenches near Pozieres was stopped by the British. This was the only move made by the infantry on British lines. There was still considerable artillery activity in this region, however. Along the front held by the French bad weather halted operations. In the Caucasus region near Lake Van, the Russians have gained additional successes over the Turks.

The Serbs in the Macedonian theater are continuing their advance toward Velenik and also have repulsed strong Bulgarian attacks northwest of Lake Ostrovo. Bombardments are proceeding in Lake Dolan region and along the banks of the Vardar river.

The Austrians are still shelling the Italian positions in the lower Isongo region, the upper Cadravo valley and the valleys of the But and Pella rivers. Notable among the gains of the Italians is the capture of Monte Caurial at an altitude of 8,000 feet.

FOURTH REGIMENT LEAVES FOR BORDER

FRANCE TO APPEAL

Suspension of the Alliance Chief of Police Is Upheld.

Alliance, O., Aug. 30.—Holding that the charges of Mayor Charles S. Westover against Chief R. E. France have been sufficiently well proven to warrant the action of the mayor in suspending him, the civil service commission handed down its decision, affirming the action of the mayor in dropping the accused police head from the department. The verdict was reached after the commission had deliberated one hour and thirty-five minutes. Chief France's attorneys immediately gave notice of an appeal to the common pleas court at Canton.

FIGHT

Against Organization For K. of C. Control Will Be Resumed In May By Brennan—New Dances Barred At Ball

Cedar Point, Aug. 29.—The fight for control of the state organization of the Knights of Columbus that Charles Brennan of Dayton started last May will be resumed when the knights assemble for their 1917 meet in this city next May. Members of the order holding their seventeenth annual reunion and outing here are lining up their forces for a combat next spring that promises to be decisive.

Brennan, it was said today, will be put forth in the next state convention as the anti-organization candidate for the state deputyship, the highest office within the gift of Ohio knights.

The organization has not finally decided whether it will present the present state deputy, Charles E. Mayne of Ironton, as a candidate for re-election, or someone else.

Reunion features today were a series of athletic contests this afternoon and a pyrotechnical display this evening, followed by an informal ball, from the program for which all the "new" dances were omitted.

THE VISION OF BIRDS

(Answers)

If our airmen possessed the vision of birds it would, perhaps, be well for us.

No animal—certainly no man—possesses one half the power of vision given to a bird.

It is said that the eagle can look straight at the sun. But this is hard to decide, inasmuch as it seldom falls to our lot to see an eagle.

Small birds, however—which all can see—can notice a speck a mile away.

Notice the "alarm" on a fine day among the birds in a locality. One minute all the choir is in full music. Then suddenly a disturbance takes place! Not a bird is seen, or heard, in a minute.

At last the human watches sees a tiny speck in the sky. It comes nearer and nearer. It is noticed to be a sparrowhawk.

The bird saw it long before the watcher. Unerringly, too, they put it down to be a hawk. Hence their alarm.

HEN PAYS FOR AUTO RIDE

(New York World)

Even a hen may understand the high cost of keeping up an automobile. At any rate, a fowl belonging to D. M. Kellogg, of Oak Tree, near Plainfield, N. J., stole a ride in the family car last Sunday night and left an egg in the rear seat to help pay for the gasoline.

The hen flew into the car Sunday. It is supposed, because the cushions made a soft nest. Why she did not flutter out when the car started that evening is not known. Mrs. Kellogg drove to Plainfield without looking on the back seat. Her first stop was at Mayor Smalley's place. She was standing talking with him when she saw a chicken fly from her machine and alight in the street. "It looks like one of my husband's game hens," said she. A man caught the hen. When they looked into the back seat Mayor Smalley and Mrs. Kellogg found an egg.
